Sustainable Architecture..?

Career as a Green Architect

The focus of Green Architects is on sustainable design and is one of the emerging careers – a job that has only recently come about.

The CareerMatch website states that a Green Building Architect designs a building with the environment in mind.

There is a purposeful approach to a design that:

- increases energy efficiency – using renewable energy such as solar or wind, for example,
- uses sustainable materials, for example recycled materials,
- decreases waste,
- and integrates a building into the surrounding environment.

The aim being to reduce the impacts on human health and the environment.

A similar role is that of a Retrofit Expert – where existing buildings are made more sustainable, by improving energy efficiency and reducing carbon emissions.

New Zealand is Open for Gap Years

With the opening of the Trans-Tasman bubble, an excited group of Australian Gap Year participants landed in New Zealand last week thanks to Letz Live.

When the bubble was announced just a few weeks ago, those who had applied from across Australia including Sydney, Tamworth, Adelaide and the Gold Coast, packed their bags and got ready for the adventure of a lifetime.

Nick Hare, Managing Director and Founder of Letz Live says, “The opening of the bubble between Australia and New Zealand is a great step forwards for those looking to live and work abroad. Many of our participants had made the decision to do a gap year before the pandemic and had to put their plans on hold while waiting for travel to resume. Now that this is possible it’s great to be able to offer them a fantastic program in New Zealand.”

The group were welcomed at Auckland airport before taking part in their training, conducted by Richard Stokes from the Australian Boarding Schools Association.

The following day they went on a Contiki day trip to Waitomo Caves and Hobbiton, trying the traditional L&P soft drink and famous NZ meat pies along the way.

On Thursday they departed for their boarding school placements all over New Zealand from Christchurch to Palmerston North and even Napier.

The Letz Live team are incredibly pleased to announce that applications to New Zealand for July 2021 and January 2022 are still open.

Careers in Criminology

Many students consider a career in the legal industry yet only know of a lawyer or judge. Many have heard of, but do not know, what a criminologist does.

The Good Careers Guide states that Criminologists examine the systems by which people accused of crimes are brought to justice, attempt to explain the reasons for criminal behaviour and suggest ways crime might be reduced.

Criminologists may perform the following tasks:

- study the ways certain criminal justice agencies operate including the law courts, police services, prisons and community-based correction centres
- provide information about crime and the ways in which people are processed by the criminal justice system
- compile crime statistics and develop ways in which crime solving resources can be best used

Criminologists may specialise in organisational research, victimology, corporate crime, adult corrections and/or juvenile justice. They may work in the legal field, which tries to make sure that laws keep up with changes in society. They may also work in the social/psychological fields, which study the effects of the criminal justice system or the factors which contribute to offending behaviour by individuals.

So, what type of person becomes a criminologist?

- ✓ Someone who has analytical ability.
- ✓ Someone with personal integrity.
- ✓ Someone interested in welfare and human behaviour.
- ✓ Someone interested in working with disadvantaged groups.

A Family Affair!

A mother, father and son celebrated the remarkable achievement of graduating at the same ceremony last month at Federation University.

Brenton Ryan, who graduated with a Bachelor of Business (Management), was able to celebrate with his mother Helen and father Caius who completed a Graduate Certificate of Health (Workplace Health & Safety) and a Master of Business Administration.

The Ryan family collectively spent about 4400 hours of study to complete the three courses, often discussing topics and brainstorming ideas around the dinner table.

Their study tips...don't leave assignments to the last minute – Brenton; don't over think it, just get on with it – Helen; and as Dory says just keep swimming – Caius.

The Ryan family now join a proud network of 115,000 Federation University alumni.
