Scholarship Application Top Tips

Keep the following in mind when writing your scholarship application:

- What is the question asking you to do? How many parts are there to the question? What do they want to know about YOU?
- The reader wants to know YOUR academic ability, YOUR commitment to your chosen course of study, YOUR ability and focus, that YOU are future focused and display capacity for leadership. Your response must be thoughtful, passionate, demonstrate a clear goal and strong purpose.
- The 'judges' want to find out about YOU as a person - what YOUR goals and hopes are. People with a definite plan or a sense of direction are more likely to persist with their course of study - this is important when making a decision to award a scholarship.
- They also want to know if you have researched what the degree or program is about: what will you learn from it? How much do you know about it? What will you bring to the program?
- Everyone is smart and ambitious. But the point is to tell your own story. Why does the course interest YOU? What do YOU hope to achieve? What do YOU have to offer?

Employment in Hospitality

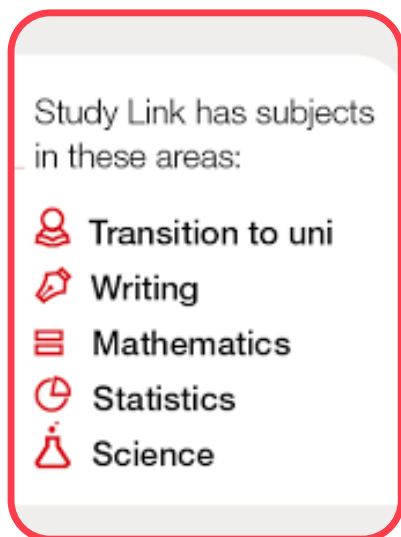

Snapshot

According to Labour Market Insights, employment in Accommodation and Food Services is projected to grow by 112,400 (or 13.2%) over the five years to November 2026.

With a focus on National Skills Week and the hospitality worker shortage, SkillsIQ Chief Executive Officer, Yasmin King says: "The great opportunity from working in the Hospitality sector is that you are working in an international industry – there is no limit to where you can work in the world. "Having worked in the sector you are able to demonstrate the most sought-after employability skills in ANY job, including communication, customer service, problem solving and working as part of a team."

CSU Study Link

Feeling nervous about uni-level studies or a particular subject?

Study Link at Charles Sturt University offers short, online subjects that prepare you for success in your degree, wherever you choose to study. Whether you're just considering uni studies, starting university or continuing in a later year, there's a Study Link subject to help you.

Study Link is ideal if you:

- have had a break from study
- are about to start a maths or science-based degree and need to refresh your knowledge
- want to brush up on your grammar
- need some pointers on academic writing and referencing
- are new to online study
- want a smooth and easy transition to uni

Study Link provides a choice of up to 23 short subjects which can all boost university studies by giving you:

- academic skills you will need (e.g. essay writing)
- a chance to fill any 'knowledge gaps' (e.g. chemistry or maths)
- experience in studying online in a university environment
- the confidence to succeed!

Study Link's subjects are:

- short (between 14 and 40 hours)
- self-paced (take up to 5 months if you need to)
- delivered flexibly
- FREE for all Australian citizens, New Zealand citizens or holders of a permanent visa
- not expensive for other students (students studying outside Australia or not meeting the above criteria)
- no pressure, as they're non-credit bearing
- relevant for new and continuing students
- taught by a real person (your Subject Coordinator) who can guide you through your subject(s).
